

'Rights' Program Appeal

Far-Reaching Actions By Administration

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy appealed today to "the basic sense of justice in the hearts of all Americans" in urging Congress to approve President Kennedy's civil rights program.

"The courts have played an important role," he said. "This administration has taken significant and far-reaching action by the exercise of executive power."

"Now it is clearly up to Congress to bring its strength to bear."

Thus Kennedy challenged the Congress to recognize—"by passing the civil rights bill—"that this country can no longer abide the moral outrage of racial discrimination."

The testimony of the President's brother before a House Judiciary subcommittee kicked off the administration's battle to propel the civil rights bill through the long, tough congressional mill.

His prepared testimony was first a further explanation of the bill but foremost a rebuttal to the criticism voiced by opponents when the President unveiled the program in a message to Congress last week.

The attorney general directed his strongest testimony to the section which promises to be the most controversial: the one prohibiting racial discrimination in any place of public accommodation—even privately owned ones.

"The effects of discrimination in public establishments are not limited to the embarrassment and frustration suffered by the individuals who are its most immediate victims," Kennedy said, "our whole economy suffers. The nation's business is impaired."

Such facilities—restaurants, lunch counters, amusement places, stores, hotel, etc.—are public in a very real sense, he said.

"They are not at all like a private home or a private club, for example, to which the owner invites only the guests he selects. Plainly, places of public accommodation cater to the public."

Kennedy then addressed himself to the argument that the public accommodations law would violate private property rights.

5th Concert By Band At Liberty Park

Under the direction of Lloyd H. Knox, the Sedalia Concert Band will present its fifth concert of the season Thursday night. Large crowds have been attending the concerts at the recreation platform in Liberty Park, beginning at 8 p. m.

Summer concerts have long been an American tradition. People used to attend them in horses and buggies; now they flock to the park in cars or on foot, to hear the old songs and the bright new ones. It is relaxing entertainment and an art form that has vanished from much of the national scene. There's plenty of room. The park lawn is the auditorium. Thursday night patrons may hear the following selections:

"Knight of the Road March," Huffer; "Men of Music March," King and Walter; "Getting to Know You," Rogers and Hammerstein; highlights from "Oklahoma," Rogers and Hammerstein; "Hortauer's March," Chambers; "Hollywood Serenade," David; "The Third Man Theme," Karac; "Leichtsteine Polka," Lindt; "King Cane," Sturchi.

After intermission the band will play: "Sound and Fury," Walters; "Mr. Wonderful," Bock-Holffner and Weiss; "Tuscararar March," King; "Desert Song," Romberg; "Wiener Blut Waltz" (Vienna Life), J. Strauss; "In Storm and Sunshine March," King; "The Star Spangled Banner," Key.

Musicians for the concert series are furnished through a grant from the Recording Industry Trust Fund arranged for through the cooperation of Local 22, American Federation of Musicians in cooperation with the Sedalia Park Board.

BACK IN SERVICE—This concrete pier bridge over Spring Fork Creek on the Catholic Community Center road south of Sedalia was put into service for the first time Tuesday. The old bridge over the creek collapsed last fall under a motor vehicle. The new bridge was erected by the 12-Mile Road District at a cost of $23,000, according to M. C. (Cal) Rodgers, secretary-treasurer of the road district. (Democrat-Capitol photo)

Government Backs Oral Polio Vaccine

To Give Quick Immunity Against All Three Types

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has approved a new short-cut oral polio vaccine designed to give quick simultaneous immunity against all three types of polio.

A license for the three-in-one vaccine—combining strains of the Sabin oral polio vaccine—was granted to Lederle Laboratories, a spokesman for the U.S. surgeon general's office said Tuesday night.

In a statement, Lederle said that, in addition to reducing the complexity of administering oral polio vaccine, the new product gives "active immunity against all three types of polio after the first feeding, and more complete protection after the second feeding eight weeks later."

The pioneer oral vaccine developed by Dr. Albert Sabin of the University of Cincinnati requires three doses a month apart, each using a different strain of live viruses to combat each type of polio.

The Salk vaccine, using dead virus and injected with a needle, is recommended given in three doses—the first and second a month apart, the third seven months later—plus a booster shot after a year.

The company said the three-in-one vaccine is the combination of the work of groups under the direction of Sabin and Dr. Herald R. Cox, Lederle's director of viral research. Lederle, a division of American Cyanamid Co., has its headquarters in Pearl River, N.Y.

The first mass tests of the vaccine were conducted in 1960 in the Miami area, where it was administered—usually in a cherry-flavored syrup—to 414,000 persons.

Cancel Red Visit

Spying Scandal Rocks Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Angry reaction to what officials called the worst spy scandal in Swedish history may force Soviet Premier Khrushchev to cancel his visit to this traditionally neutral nation a second time.

The government disclosed Tuesday the arrest of a Swedish air force colonel charged with spying for the Soviet Union for the past 15 years. For five of those years he was Swedish air attaché in Washington. It also ordered the expulsion of his two alleged contacts, the first secretary of the Soviet Embassy and the Soviet military attaché.

Col. Stig Erik Wennerstrom, decorated by both the United States and France, was arrested Friday. Police said he admitted selling military secrets of Sweden and other countries to the Kremlin.

Although the other countries were not identified, they presumably included the United States, which honored Wennerstrom with its legion of Merit.

A special communique suggested more disclosures would be forthcoming. They could further embarrass Khrushchev and force him to cancel his Scandinavian visit, scheduled for next spring. Two years ago stormy political opposition made Khrushchev postpone a trip to Sweden.

In ADC Fight

Appropriations Blocked Again

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Major appropriation bills were blocked in the legislature today as it neared the end of the session locked in a fight over funds for aid to dependent children.

House-Senate conferees, working on the problem for the third time, deadlocked again Thursday night and planned to resume their arguments today.

The problem has to be settled soon or legislative leaders cannot reach their goal of adjournment by Saturday night. Work on bills has to end at midnight Sunday whether all issues are resolved or not.

The ADC fight started last week when the Senate voted to cut House figures for the program by $2 million in an attempt to curb illegitimacy. Counting federal matching funds that amounts to a $4 million slash.

Sen. J. P. Patterson, D-Caruthersville, Senate Appropriations chairman, said nothing else has worked and cutting the grants might help.

Negro members of the House and Senate immediately started a campaign to get the full cut restored to the House figure of $16,386,028. Missouri's Negro population is concentrated in St. Louis, Kansas City and the southeastern Bootheel region and those are the areas where the ADC rolls are largest.

House and Senate conferees first put back $163,972 of the cut. The Senate refused to accept that.

Then the conferees added another $500,000 to bring the total to $15,250,000. The House turned that down Tuesday afternoon.

Speaker Thomas D. Graham, D-Cole County, reportedly told the House conferees to stand fast and they did to help create the latest deadlock.

Meanwhile all the other pending appropriation bills are blocked and as the clock ticked on the session mounted.

House Backs Medical Aid To Indigents

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The House today passed and sent back to the Senate a bill to let Missouri more fully provide medical aid for aged indigents.

It would supply hospital, medical and dental care to those who are on old age assistance or to those who are judged to be medically indigent—those who can normally take care of themselves but when sickness strikes they need financial help.

It would raise from the present maximum of $100 a month to $110 the amount of state aid available. Matching money would be supplied by the federal government under the Kerr-Mills Act. It was estimated to cost about $4 million plus in the next biennium.

The Senate passed and sent to the governor bills to:

Let minors borrow up to $1,000 for educational purposes on promissory notes. Now minors cannot borrow money without a mature co-signer.

Make poll closing time in Clay and St. Louis counties uniformly 7 p. m. in all elections. Elsewhere in the state the polls will close at 7 p. m. or sundown, whichever is later.

The House struck a batch of its own bills that had never been passed on to the Senate.

Among them were proposals to: Change the constitution so the state could build and operate pari-mutuel horse or dog-racing tracks.

Make the state pay half the cost of child welfare services. It was one of the bills St. Louis Mayor Raymond R. Tucker asked to help solve the city's financial troubles.

Dalton Signs Tax Records, Other Bills

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A bill to open income and sales tax records in the pursuit of deserting parents was signed by Gov. John M. Dalton today.

Sponsors said it would give the state Division of Welfare a tool to crack down on applicants for aid to dependent children who have ample income to support their children.

The bill, like others signed today, will go into effect Oct. 13. The governor reported he has received 130 bills so far, signed 79, vetoed five and has 46 left.

Other bills signed would: Give the state sanatorium at Mt. Vernon the right to treat chronic respiratory diseases other than tuberculosis.

Include real property in determining eligibility for blind aid, to correct a 1961 omission in the law.

Give the state Board of Education power to condemn property for use of the state School for the Deaf at Fulton or the state School for the Blind at St. Louis.

Kennedy Visits Berlin Wall Amid Cheers of East, West

In East Germany

Seek Big Show For Nikita Visit

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Communists are trying to drum up a big show for Soviet Premier Khrushchev's visit to East Berlin Friday in a bid to match President Kennedy's reception in West Berlin.

Berlin experts predicted that, for Khrushchev's seventh visit, East Berliners would heed a Communist appeal to "decorate houses, streets, squares and factories with the red flags of the working class," but would do so sullenly.

The East German Communist party organ, Neues Deutschland, made a front page appeal to East Berliners to give their traditional hospitality "to our great friend."

It ran interviews with the mayor, a mechanic and a salesgirl extolling Khrushchev's visit. The East German radio also broadcast interviews and commentaries to whip up interest.

The Soviet premier visited East Berlin only last January and no one expected him to return so soon.

But East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht's 70th birthday on Sunday presented Khrushchev's visit a reason.

Khrushchev's visit aroused a number of questions among officials in West Berlin and West Germany.

Would he confine himself to making a reply to Kennedy's pledge of support for West Berlin and Western Europe?

Or would he make some move that would launch a new crisis?

Khrushchev could unveil the peace treaty he has been promising the East Germans for 4½ years. This treaty, the Soviets claim, would cancel the western allies rights to be in Berlin and place their access to the city at the mercy of the East Germans.

The Western allies are committed to go to war to preserve their rights and defend the freedom of the West Berliners. If Khrushchev announced the signing of the treaty, it would touch off the hottest Berlin crisis ever.

Young GOP Rally Backs Goldwater

Hammering Out Party's Stand On Civil Rights

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Young Republicans were hammering out a civil rights stand today at a national convention that has turned into a mass rally backing Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater for president.

About 1,000 persons had registered for the 13th biennial convention, with Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield scheduled to make the first speech today.

Andrew Hunter of Massachusetts, chairman of the resolutions committee, predicted a civil rights statement probably would produce the most controversy. He also foresaw statements on Cuba, Laos and other topics "which won't make the President happy."

Bob Cohen of New Hampshire was appointed to head a five-member subcommittee—representing all parts of the country—to come up with a civil rights comment.

At an earlier news conference, the two candidates for chairman of the Young Republican National Federation had sharp words for President Kennedy's civil rights proposals.

Charles McDevitt, an Idaho legislator and lawyer, said it was "too far-reaching and it invades personal rights and privacy."

Donald Lukens, Republican secretary of the House of Representatives Rules Committee, declared the Kennedy program "goes too far. The administration has tried to pass the buck to Congress."

Lukens and McDevitt called themselves conservatives not committed to any GOP presidential prospect. They said they would support the nominee to be picked in San Francisco in 1964. Many delegates regarded both men, however, leaning toward Goldwater.

Claims Wall a Symbol Of Communist Failures

BERLIN (AP)—President Kennedy looked at the wall in Berlin today and beyond into the Red-ruled East. Wild cheers from a million West Berliners rang in his ears and even East Berliners waved at him despite the presence of armed Communist police.

Then, in a speech to 250,000 Germans in front of City Hall he denounced the wall as a symbol of Communist failure.

"The wall is an offense against history and an offense against humanity," he told the chanting, roaring crowd.

They were part of the million West Berliners who left their jobs and homes to give Kennedy what his press secretary said was the greatest reception he had received anywhere in the world.

He saw the wall twice. He visited historic Brandenburg Gate, the massive symbol of Berlin's division, and Checkpoint Charlie, the Allied crossing point into East Berlin.

Across from the checkpoint perhaps 2,000 East Berliners defied Communist police who tried to keep them moving. Though they could see little of Kennedy they heard the cheers and smiled. Some hesitatingly raised handkerchiefs and waved when the police were not looking.

They were waving handkerchiefs also when Kennedy mounted a special platform at Brandenburg Gate and looked for four minutes into East Berlin.

Another expression from the East occurred at Congress Hall in West Berlin, where Kennedy was given a bunch of flowers sent from East Berlin workers as a symbol of their hope for eventual freedom from Communist rule.

Then in a speech at West Berlin's Free University, Kennedy predicted the very system which erected the wall is headed for discard. He said police states are an anachronism.

The President arrived at the Brandenburg Gate—the symbol of the division of Berlin between East and West—at 11:45 a. m.

He mounted a platform and looked at the concrete and barbed wire wall stretching in front of him, to the left and to the right, and at the massive gate before him.

Prescribes Political Unification

Europe, US Accord For Ills Plaguing West Civilization

By J. A. DEAR

FRANKFURT, Germany — For the first time in history an American President has prescribed political unification of Europe and the United States as a specific for the ills plaguing Western civilization. Mr. Kennedy's prescription was offered with caution.

The military and economic and financial interests of Europe and the United States are the same, he told his audience here. For that reason he said Europe has no cause to fear actions against its interests by the United States but he warned the Western Alliance also depends on common political purpose and that "the greatest of our necessities, the most notable of our omissions is progress toward unity of political purpose."

Then the President advanced his grand design. "In the far future there may be a great new union for all of us," he said.

Like the family doctor, he made the prescription sound painless.

"For the present there is plenty for all to do in building enduring connections," he said, implying that political union will be the consequence of correct living. "But the proposal is on the table in putting it there."

Mr. Kennedy lifted his ten day tour from the commonplace pettiness of an anti-Gaullist crusade. Still every speech so far has bristled with digs at De Gaulle. Today's was no exception. Those who impugn the sincerity of America's pledge to defend Europe, he said "give aid and comfort to the men who make themselves our adversaries and welcome any Western disarray."

The President is pleased with the warm response of German crowds. In fact the German government has been surprised by the numbers of its citizens who have smiled their approval of Kennedy.

But the President seems very tired which is no wonder for his pace has matched that of a political campaign at home.

Judge Betty Pine Lockard had heard testimony at a preliminary hearing in Magistrate Court on June 19 and took the case under advisement until today.

Baker is free on $5,000 bond.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: This will sound terrible but I'm really a very nice guy. I want my fourth wife back. I've had one marriage since Peg and I know for sure that number four is the girl for me.

I am 42, mature, and have been around enough to know the score. I am not stuck with any alimony raps because all my ex-wives remarried. All my kids have been adopted by their step-fathers so I have never been hooked for child support either.

The problem is that Peg's husband is a big shot and he might give me some trouble. He and Peg never had kids of their own and he is crazy about the boys. I haven't seen them in seven years but I hear the kids are very handsome—like me.

I'm sure Peg still loves me and that I could be a good father to the boys. I realize now I should have stuck with them. Do you think I have a chance? — BEN A ROUND

Dear Ben: Chance for what? A fat lip? Your sudden attack of paternity gets me right here, Pal. Your timing is cockeyed and I have only one recommendation: Get yourself good and lost and leave this family alone.

Dear Ann Landers: I would just love to get my hands on that girl from Minneapolis who said all fellows who wear white socks are yokels.

Did it ever occur to her that some men must wear white socks—following doctors' orders? My husband is one of those unfortunate guys who is allergic to the dye in men's socks. His feet used to break out in a terrible rash and the itching drove him crazy. It took quite a long time before he was able to track down the cause of his trouble. Since he has worn only white socks he hasn't had any problem.

So please tell that big-mouth there in Minneapolis it's unfair to judge people by the color of their socks. I don't like the looks of white socks either, but it's better than bandages. — NOT COLOR BLIND

Dear Not Color Blind: I was surprised at the number of wives who wrote as you did to say their husbands wore white socks because of feet problems. Others wrote to say they like the looks of white socks, and whose business is it anyway?

Dear Ann Landers: I am 26, have been married for five years and have two darling youngsters. My problem is not serious but I want to handle it with care because it involves my youngest sister.

Sharon is 17 and graduated from high school a couple of weeks ago. She is a very pretty girl and an unabashed flirt. She has been batting her eyes at my husband since she was 13. I always considered her behavior more adolescent than damaging. My husband ignored her aggressiveness until recently when he said, "Your little sister is boy-crazy and I hope she outgrows it."

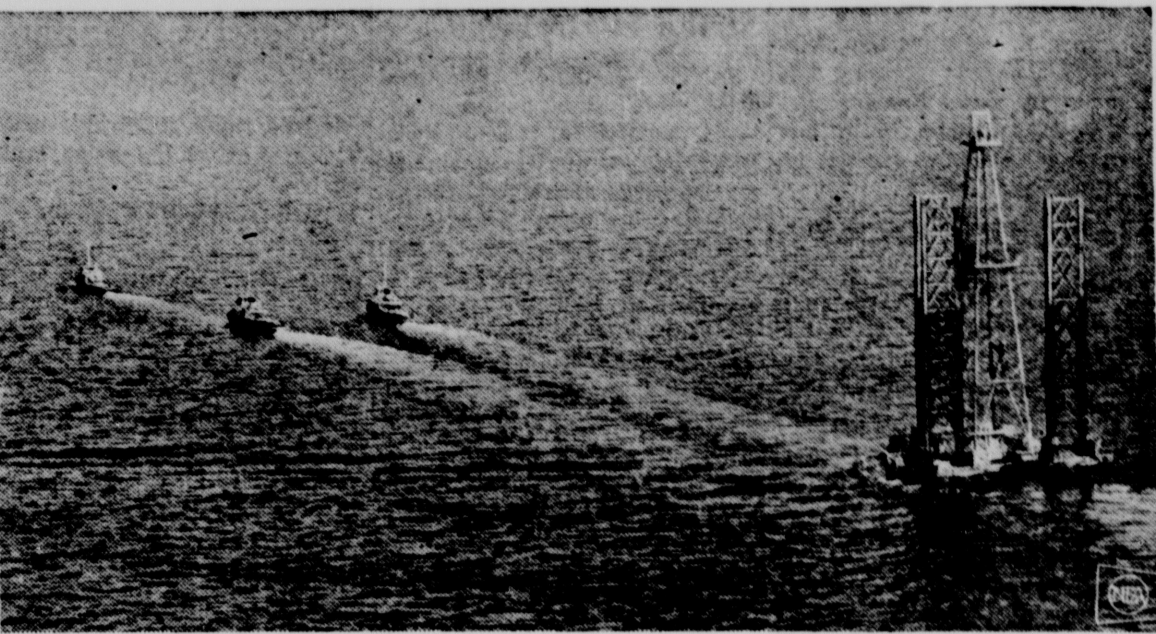

Last night Sharon brought her graduation pictures over. She had a large one framed for my husband's office—those were her instructions. On it she wrote, "To Jess, with all my love forever and ever."

My husband does not want to take the picture to his office but he is afraid of hurting her feelings. What is your advice? — L. L.S.

Dear L.L.S.: The inscription disqualifies the picture from display anywhere. Keep it in the drawer. And if your sister inquires about it, Jess should tell her why it's NOT in his office.

Two Civil War Shells Found In Library

WINCHESTER, Va. (AP)—Two Civil War shells lay among the books for years, fused and ready. Two Ft. Belvoir Army specialists came Tuesday, defused the shells and carted them off. Civil War buff Manuel Sempeles discovered a 5-inch navy shell in the basement of Handley Library and a smaller shell upstairs in a storage room. Librarian David Roland remembered how the shells had been tossed around during a recent cleaning and a changeover. Roland made a quick check of the library—no more shells; only books. Certificate of Merit Given Kahrs Brothers

Kahr Bros., Poland China breeders, Smithton, have been awarded a certificate of merit by the Poland China Record Association of Galesburg, Ill., for qualifying seven spring farrowed litters in the breed's herd improvement sow testing program.

Kahrs Bros. seven litters contained 81 live pigs averaging 11.5 pigs per litter, with an average birth weight of three pounds. The purpose of the Poland China sow testing program is to identify and give recognition to the sows which have the ability to give birth to large litters of easy to raise pigs. College research has demonstrated that pigs this weight at birth have 60 per cent more chance of survival as compared to two pound pigs.

OBITUARIES

Leslie L. Hale
(Sedalia)

Leslie Lueking Hale, 61, 1624 West Seventh, died this morning at Bothwell Hospital where he had been a patient since June 11.

He was born in Sedalia, Feb. 13, 1902, son of the late Harvey L. and Minnie Lueking Hale. He married Mabel A. "Peggy" Anderson May 18, 1928, in Muskogee, Okla.

Hale was a resident of Sedalia all his life and was a member of the First Methodist Church. He was active in the Missouri National Guard and served as company clerk for three years during World War II under Capt. A. B. Burke. He held the rank of sergeant.

He was a scoutmaster and on the Boy Scout Council. He ran for police judge in 1962 and was active in Republican politics. He was employed by Dave Chasoff's department store as advertising manager from 1921 to 1926; from 1926 until 1943 he was with Waldman's clothing store and from 1943 until 1961 he was employed by Midwest Auto Stores.

His hobbies were model railroads, scouting and a particular interest in Sedalia's fire departments about which he had a thorough knowledge similar to that he had about the old street railways here, pictures of which form a part of an invaluable collection of community memorabilia.

Hale had an intense interest in anything historical in relation to Sedalia or Pettis county. For some years he was active in looking after the contents and arrangement of the museum displays of the Pettis County Historical Society on the first floor of the courthouse.

During the 1960 Sedalia Centennial he supplied pertinent information for the Sedalia Democrat-Capital's special historical edition. At his own expense he produced and published a commemorative pictorial brochure of old-time pictures.

Just about everyone knew Les Hale who maintained friendly rounds of communication always heralding his approach with a whistle, a smile and a cheerful greeting.

Downtown Dust-Catchers

To keep Sedalia spruced up is not only good citizenship but also good business either downtown or in the residential districts.

Neglected premises are a sure sign an area is becoming shabby and blighted. With a few exceptions shoppers prefer to do business in a clean, attractive, well organized community; so do new industries or store people looking for suitable locations, or people just wanting to settle down here and live.

Practical assets, notwithstanding, evidence of slovenly habits can be a deciding factor to discourage newcomers.

Once a year clean-up, paint-up campaigns are all right but this is not enough, anymore than the once customary Saturday night bath.

We have in mind one small item of good housekeeping in the downtown shopping district. Great pains are taken to save the area from drying up but little attention is given to eyesores that are poor advertisements. These include vacant storerooms whose entrances have become depositories for dust, paper scraps or any wind-blown debris. Although it is not the responsibility of the store owner in business next door to a vacant room to sweep out an adjoining dirt-catcher, it would be to his best interest to do so anyhow. A little broom work is called for downtown.

Then there ought to be some way of getting those sloppy looking paper sales banners removed from the windows of vacant storerooms or otherwise tidying up the abandoned premises. The building owner should consider it also in his own best interests to see that this is done preparatory to attracting a new renter. The same psychology applies to storerooms as it does to residences. Many a prospective renter is lost because of unkempt buildings.

A few store fronts need a paint job. By comparison with others they present a sad and slovenly appearance. Improvements cost money, of course, and it's not easy to talk someone else into spending their money.

On the other hand it costs little to keep clean your own premises or seek from an absentee owner permission to tidy up his store front. We can't imagine any owner objecting to a neighbor sweeping out the refuse around the front door.

A little cooperation in this respect among the active merchants will go a long way toward disposing of a lot of dirt, an accumulation of which can be not only offensive to shoppers but also unprofitable to neighboring businesses.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Mrs. J. E. Rodeman, accompanied by Mrs. J. G. Love and daughter, Miss Margaret Love, attended the commencement exercises at Washington University, St. Louis, at which time her son, Jack Rodeman, received his Doctor of Medicine degree. Dr. Rodeman will begin a year's internship at St. Luke's hospital, Kansas City.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Between 350 and 400 novitiates were inducted into the mysteries of the Invisible Empire of the Ku Klux Klan at an open air meeting held in a great field about a mile and a half north of Dresden. Two mammoth fiery crosses shed light upon the assembled Klansmen estimated at 3,000.

The Right Questions

"The important thing is not that people go more to church, listen to evangelists, and join churches but that the younger generation asks the right questions," says Dr. Paul Johannes Tillich, Protestant theologian at the University of Chicago. "I start with man asking questions about the ultimate meaning of life. I was concerned about infinity at the age of eight."

The German professor, now a naturalized citizen, believes the Divine Spirit walks in every human situation. He emphasizes the need for science and religion to help each other and that more knowledge of the universe is more knowledge of God.

WICHITA EAGLE: Dirty Trick. — Before long American astronauts may be conquering the universe in banana-flavored spacecraft. That's the word from a scientist working on the Apollo moon project.

Actually, the idea is to package scientific equipment and other necessities of the journey in edible material made of milk powder and starch, and use an aggregate made of hominy grits and banana flakes. After it has served as packing crates it can be soaked for eight or 10 hours in water and eaten, says the scientist. It will taste like cereal with a slight banana flavor.

This probably shows admirable forehandness on the part of the scientist. But as to the astronauts, it seems like a dirty trick to send them to the moon and then feed them the same kind of breakfast that made them willing to leave home in the first place.

It is encouraging that this learned teacher accepts the popular assumption that there is a resurgence of religion in America. It is sometimes difficult to see the evidence of this, but if he is correct that the younger generation does ask the right questions about God, infinity and the ultimate concern of life, then there is hope for the future.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

JFK Could Wither His Olive Branch

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — When President Kennedy goes up to the Berlin wall a lot of people will be watching him. The East German guards across the wall will be watching. The West Berliners will be watching. The diplomats of Europe will be watching. But perhaps most of all, the policy-makers in the Kremlin will be watching; also his own advisors back in Washington.

What they and the Kremlin will be watching is to see whether the President blows his own American University speech of June 10.

This was the speech which pointed to the 20,000,000 casualties suffered by the Russians in the last war, also pointed to the fact that Russia and the United States had never been opposed to each other in war, and argued that war was so terrible we have to co-exist.

The speech was considered such an important overture to the USSR that it was published in full in Izvestia and Pravda, and began to warm up some of the recent hard-line policies of the Kremlin. It also brought renewed attacks on Khrushchev from the Red Chinese, was labeled by the Chinese as a "cunning and sinister plot to divide Moscow and Peking," and probably hastened the signing of the U.S.-USSR agreement for a hot telephone line between the Kremlin and the Pentagon.

Finally, it may have had something to do with the recent speech by Soviet Ambassador Fedorenko at the U.N. withdrawing that one-time Khrushchev boast that he would "bury us."

Kremlin Divisions

However, the speech was greeted by skepticism by some inside the Kremlin. There is by no means unity inside the Communist world, and some Kremlin advisors suggested that the President didn't really mean what he said when he talked so eloquently about better understanding, that actually the speech was a tactical device to put the United States in a good light prior to a deadlock on nuclear test ban negotiations.

So in Berlin will be the real test of whether Kennedy meant what he said in his American University speech.

There is no place which makes a better platform for hell-bent-for-leather speeches than the ground adjacent to the Berlin wall. Here the passions of the West Berliners are likely to ignite the most impassive speaker. Here it is routine to open old wounds, wave the flag, and goad the Russian bear.

The President will have alongside him as he travels through the charred rubble near the Berlin wall one of the most famous and effective goaders of the Russian bear—Gen. Lucius Clay. Clay will be standing beside him on the steps of the Rathaus—the Berlin city hall—when the President dedicates a new plaque on the freedom bell, a gift from Americans to the people of Berlin during the Berlin airlift.

That airlift marked a great victory for the free world over Stalinism, and the freedom bell is a great monument to its memory. They should not be forgotten.

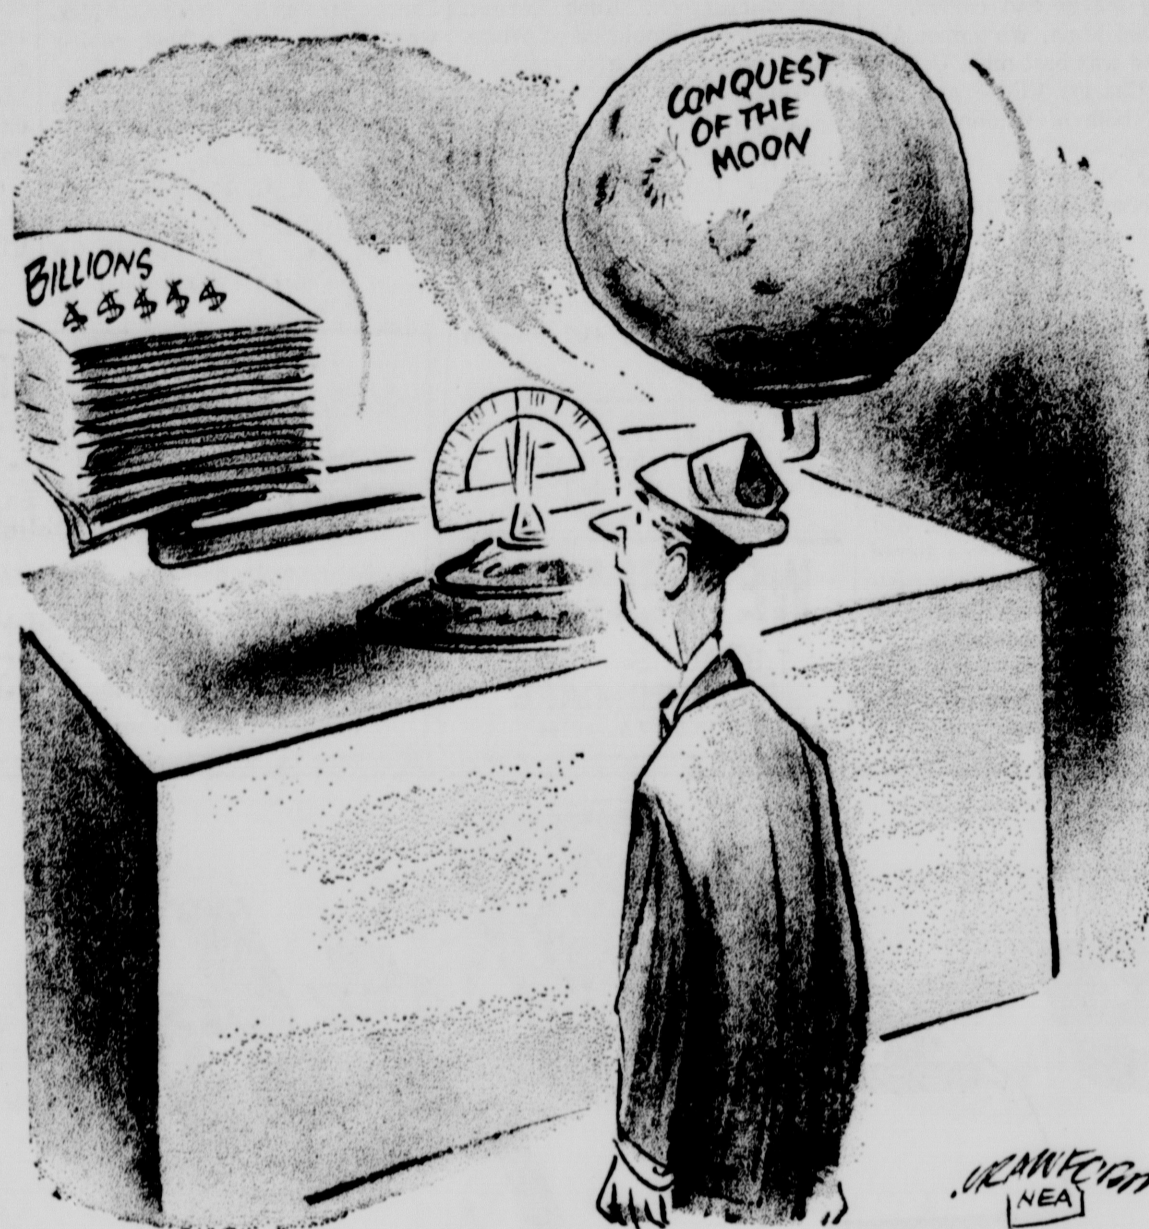

But according to the President's own speech at American University, things have changed since then. Stalin, the man who attempted the blockade of West Berlin has been dead for ten years. His body has been removed from its place of honor in the Kremlin.

An argument for and against his policies has split the two biggest Communist countries—China and Russia—wide open. At another meeting in Berlin on Jan. 15—this one on the eastern side of the wall—Communist delegates hooted and howled at the Chinese delegate at an East Berlin state dinner after he advocated the war policies of Stalin. He sat alone as speaker after speaker poured on the ridicule.

This was a private meeting, not meant for Western headlines, and more significant because it was private.

The meeting between Berliners and President Kennedy on the western side of the wall will be meant for headlines. On how those headlines read will depend the future test ban talks in Moscow, the talks between the Russians and the Chinese, and most of all whether the more moderate forces inside the Kremlin take seriously the olive branch in President Kennedy's American University speech.

The World Today

JFK Waits, Then Answers de Gaulle

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy waited six months until he got to Europe to do an extraordinary job on French President Charles de Gaulle for the damage he had caused the Western Alliance.

In a rough, deliberately planned major policy speech Tuesday at Frankfurt, Germany, Kennedy, with all Europe listening, ripped into De Gaulle for suggesting America might run out on its Allies in case of attack.

This was probably the harshest criticism—even though Kennedy did not mention De Gaulle by name—that any U.S. president has made on an Allied leader since the war.

This made the relationship between the two men frigid. It was already cold. De Gaulle pointedly had not asked Kennedy to stop off in France on his trip that takes in West Germany, Ireland, Britain and Italy.

Of all the days in the year on which he could have belittled the United States, De Gaulle picked the worst one, last Jan. 14, the day Kennedy delivered his State of the Union message to Congress.

That was an extremely sunny, optimistic Kennedy message which said: "How fares the Grand Alliance? Free Europe is entering into a new phase of its long and brilliant history."

De Gaulle made the words look ludicrous before Kennedy got them out of his mouth. The Frenchman held a news conference just a few hours before Kennedy spoke. The timing was no accident. He holds few such conferences.

And, when he does, the questions have to be submitted beforehand. In summary, De Gaulle did these four things:

1. He rejected this country's proposal for a multinational nuclear force and proclaimed his determination to build a separate French nuclear force.

This was exactly what Kennedy didn't want. It meant one more nuclear power in the world and would be encouragement to other countries to do the same.

2. He slammed Europe's Common Market door in Britain's face, treating his British ally as an outsider.

This gummed up American-British hopes for a united European economic effort and weakened both economic and political unity among the Allies.

3. He said France opposed a Common Market "under American leadership and domination."

This was a slap in the face. It galled the United States, which resented the suggestion it was trying to run Europe.

4. He complained that while the United States talked of a multinational NATO nuclear force for Europe, that force would remain under U.S. control.

He hit the mark there. Under law passed by Congress, this government must retain full control of nuclear weapons, deciding whether or not to use them.

On April 19 De Gaulle kicked the United States again by suggesting France could not be sure of the intentions of its Allies, much less of its enemies.

In short, from the American view, he had endangered the whole alliance.

Against this background it is understandable why Kennedy on his present European trip has repeatedly assured the Allies the United States would defend Europe from attack even if it meant attack on the United States.

He said Tuesday that "the United States will risk its cities to defend yours because we need your freedom to protect ours."

But he went far beyond that by implying De Gaulle was playing into Soviet hands by casting doubt on the alliance and American intentions.

He said: "Those who would cast doubt on our pledge—those who would separate Europe from America or split one ally from another—would only give aid and comfort to the men who make themselves our adversaries and welcome any Western disarray."

He called separate "national deterrents"—meaning De Gaulle's plans for a nuclear force separate from NATO's—turning "the clock back."

He went beyond the political and military and called again in most earnest terms for the kind of European economic unity De Gaulle has prevented.

Any former coziness in the Kennedy-De Gaulle relationship is gone.

The Doctor Says

Good Dietary Practices Help to Foil Heartburn

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Heartburn means different things to different people, but properly refers to a burning sensation under the breastbone that comes on from a half hour to five hours after eating, and is intermittent in character.

It is an irritation of the esophagus by the regurgitation of acid stomach contents. Why the regurgitation occurs is not well understood. In severe cases, sour or greasy material may come up, not only into the lower end of the esophagus but into the mouth.

Spicy foods are likely to be more irritating to the esophagus and stomach, and are thus more apt to cause heartburn than are bland foods.

Greasy foods slow up the emptying of the stomach. This in itself is not harmful, but associated with the slow emptying there may be an increased tendency to heartburn if you are tense or emotionally upset.

In some persons, heartburn is favored by taking large amounts of citrus fruits. This is another case where a little is better than a lot.

With most persons, eating too fast and not chewing the food thoroughly is a contributory cause. Excessive smoking or drinking will also aggravate heartburn.

It is important for a person with heartburn to rule out gall bladder disease and other diseases of the digestive tract.

If your doctor finds that you do not have these serious diseases, he is safe in assuming that you have simple heartburn. You should be able to get relief with simple measures. A glass of water will dilute the stomach acid and give some relief if nothing else is available, but the water quickly leaves the stomach and the heartburn usually returns.

Baking soda used to be given for this condition. It is no longer recommended because, while neutralizing the acidity, it stimulates acid production.

The best remedy is one of the many aluminum hydroxide preparations. They are harmless and, if one does not give you relief it is safe to take another and even a third; but this is rarely necessary.

Finally, remember that simple heartburn can be prevented by obeying the rules of good hygiene.

Q—For the past four months I have had a bad case of hiccups. I have them day and night. What could cause this? What can I do?

A—Hiccups are usually caused by a reflex irritation of the diaphragm or the nerve that controls it. The commonest cause of such an irritation is overdistention of the stomach, but attacks due to this cause would not be as persistent as your hiccups.

Many remedies have been suggested. Sometimes the hiccups stop as suddenly as they start, and for no apparent reason. When this happens, the last remedy tried may erroneously be given the credit. A simple treatment that is often successful is to hold a paper bag tightly over your nose and mouth and rebreathe the air in the bag for a little while. Another home treatment which has worked is to hold nostrils and ears tightly shut and, with the aid of another person, drink a full tumbler of water without stopping to breathe.

If this is not successful, your doctor may want to give you one of the drugs that is used to control vomiting, as they may also control hiccups in some people.

Sinist persistent hiccups interferes with eating and sleeping, the condition often presents a serious problem. Your doctor may have to block the nerve that supplies the diaphragm.

The problem should not be taken lightly. A search should always be made for the underlying cause, so that it can be treated and a recurrence prevented.

The Mature Parent

Teaser Is Insecure One

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: "Spiteful" is the only word to describe the way our son, 16, treats his younger sister. She is 13, shy and not so pretty as our youngest girl, who is her brother's favorite. He calls her "Jumbo" before his friends, and as she is very sensitive about her plumpness, she won't leave her room when he has visitors. Do you know of any way we can get him to treat her as affectionately as he does his baby sister?

ANSWER: You are repelled by his vindictive treatment of his younger sister, aren't you?

This feeling of revulsion from the jealous child's behavior is what makes it so hard for us to help him. It offends us so that we can't see that it springs from his self-contempt — a doubt of his own value so pressing that he must make his sister appear equally worthless in the eyes of as many people as possible. We are so revolted by the jealous child's meanness that we just want it stopped. And we feel irritated by the suggestion that he, more often than his victim, is the child who needs our attention and sympathetic encouragement. As a result of this impatience in us, his self-doubt increases, driving him to increase his belittling treatment.

So, though you may not like it, any change you want in your son has to first take place in you.

I don't know how I can make him seem sympathetic to you. But I can assure you that at his age we are beset by all kinds of subsurface anxieties about our sexual attractiveness, our friends' opinions of us, how we can justify our parents' expectations of us, and our future place in the world. We may use envy of a younger child to express them.

Does this boy of yours have any clear plans for his life? Has he chosen the work he wants to do? Is he worried about college admission? Have you or his father ever discussed any of these subjects with him?

During World War II there was a German word one heard a lot about — "Lebensraum" — room for life. Room for his worried life is an acute need of the adolescent child. If we don't make space for his anxieties by using his complaints and criticisms to persuade him to talk to us about them, they may express themselves in vindictive treatment of a younger child who seems spared the older child's bigger challenges.

Perhaps your boy is envious, not of his sister, but of his parents' sympathetic awareness of her.

We the Women

You've Met Them All

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Do you belong to a woman's club? If you do, you'll recognize these types:

The Clothes Horse, who manages to make all the other women feel like frumps.

The Memory, who slows down proceedings by pointing out what the club did about a certain matter in 1961—or was it 1962?

The Prodder, who is always trying to get the meeting back to the business at hand.

The Rambler, who takes 10 minutes to make a minor point.

The Born President, who is determined to run the show whether her title is past, present — or never.

The Grumbler, who votes with the crowd, but states how she really feels privately to one member after another after the votes are cast.

The Outdoorer, who, when it is her turn to entertain the club, always has things a little fancier than she is supposed to—making it tough on the next hostess.

The Do-gooder, who never misses an opportunity to let the girls know what she's been up to, though prettily making light of it all.

The Handshaker, who wears the same bright, meaningless smile for everyone.

The Absent-minded, who doesn't listen to what is going on and always has to have everything explained twice.

The Practical, who is always suggesting simple ways of doing things—and getting nowhere, because no woman's organization is interested in doing anything the easy way.

Got a club meeting tomorrow? See if you can't spot all these types.

Colts Suffer

Can't Find Home Away From Home

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pity Houston's wandering Colts. They can't find home away from home.

Home plate again was out of bounds for the restless wonders Tuesday night as they were zeroed, again, this time at Milwaukee 4-0 by Tony Cloninger.

In suffering their 10th successive loss and 14th in 15 games on their current road trip, the Colts were blanked for the sixth time in their last seven games. In that non-shutout, Houston broke loose for one run.

Since leaving Texas two weeks ago, the last-place Colts have totaled 11 runs—and six of those came in a doubleheader split at San Francisco. Eight times they've been shut out, five times they've scored one run.

At the opposite end of the NL ladder Tuesday night, the St. Louis Cardinals reclaimed first from San Francisco, capitalizing on errant Giant throws in the ninth inning for a 6-5 victory. The Los Angeles Dodgers edged into second by trimming Cincinnati 4-1 behind Sandy Koufax' fine pitching and key hits from Jim Gilliam.

Philadelphia beat Pittsburgh 5-4 on Don Demeter's 10th inning homer and the Chicago Cubs clipped the New York Mets 4-1 with three runs in the seventh.

Cloninger zipped by the Colts with a four-hitter and the Braves got off to a fast start against Ken Johnson. Lee Maye belted Johnson's first pitch of the evening for a 400-foot homer and Joe Torre singled across another run before the opening inning was over.

Milwaukee got two more in the seventh on a pair of doubles by Maye and Frank Bolling and Eddie Mathews' single.

In a first-inning outbreak capped by Ken Boyer's two-run homer, the Cards rushed into a 5-0 lead against the Giants but it eventually took an unearned run in the last of the ninth to win it. In between, San Francisco pulled even with a run in the sixth and four in the eighth, when Willie McCovey homered with one on and Felipe Alou tripled with two on.

In the decisive St. Louis ninth, Tim McCarver led off against Bob Bolin, the sixth Giant pitcher, with a single. Then Bolin made a bad throw to second after fielding Red Schoendienst's sacrifice bunt, and McCarver came the rest of the way when Orlando Cepeda pegged wildly to third after picking up Julian Javier's sacrifice.

Koufax mastered Jim O'Toole in a battle between two star left-handers—with old pro Gilliam supplying the vital punch. Gilliam, who doubled in the third and scored the first Dodger run, doubled home Maury Wills with the tie-breaker in the eighth and scored again on Tommy Davis' single. Ron Fairly homered in the ninth off O'Toole, who allowed 11 hits in losing his fourth against 13 victories.

Koufax, after a shaky start, finished with a six-hitter and ran his record to 12-3. He struck out nine for a 129 total—high in the league; notched his 10th complete game—high in the league; and lowered his earned run average to 1.68—best among NL starters.

The Dodgers now trail St. Louis by one-half game and have an edge of two percentage points over the Giants. The Reds are in fourth, two games out.

Demeter hit the game-winning homer in the 10th for the Phils against Harvey Haddix, Pittsburgh's sixth pitcher. The Pirates had sent the match into overtime by scoring twice in the ninth on Bill Virdon's bases-loaded single before winner Johnny Klippstein slammed the door.

Pittsburgh punched out 18 hits—but also left 15 men stranded.

Larry Jackson turned in a four-hitter for the Cubs and now is 5-0 against the Mets over two seasons. Jay Hook stayed even with Jackson until the seventh, when the Cubs sent across three runs, breaking a 1-1 tie. Billy Williams singled in the go-ahead marker, then Ron Santo singled in two more.

Nationals Coming Out On the Top

The All-Stars of the Babe Ruth League played Monday and Tuesday nights, with the National League coming out on top, taking three of the four games played.

The 13 year old All-Star game Monday night saw the Nationals bury the American League 16-7. The National League runs came on eight hits, while the losers could manage only half that number. Boyd had three hits in three trips to the plate, leading both leagues in that game. John McKenzie was the winning hurler for the Nationals, with Jerry Morris marking down the loss.

In 14 and 15 year old all-star play Monday night, the National League's stars came from behind in extra innings to win 6-5. The American Leaguers had eight hits, but despite four National League errors, were able to cash in for only five runs. The National League had six hits, good for six runs. Jim Vinson was the leading hitter, with a double and a triple in two times at the plate. The winning pitcher was Tommy Hudson, with 16 strikeouts. Jim Thomas received credit for the loss, issuing 11 strikeouts.

In Tuesday night's action, the 13 year old all-stars of the National League sent their foes down to defeat for the second time with a solid 6-1 score. In a well-played game, the Nationals used every man on their bench—19 in all—while the American League sent in only one substitution, a relief pitcher in the last of the seventh. Allen McCurdy was the winning pitcher for the Nationals, with Jack Rouchka the loser for the Americans.

The American League barely slipped past the Nationals 3-2 in the 14 and 15 year old all-star game Tuesday. The Americans came from behind in the bottom of the seventh to tie the game 2-2 with a home run by Corky Henderson. Then in the last of the eighth, they finally shoved over another run to take the win. Both teams had identical hitting and fielding records, with three hits and two errors apiece. Mike Krasberger was the winning pitcher for the Americans, with 14 strikeouts. Lewis, with 12 strikeouts, took the loss.

MIDWINTER

Tennis Play Troubled By The Weather

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—The United States delegation in the Wimbledon Tennis Championships is troubled more by British weather than the international opposition.

"This weather may not bother the British, but brother they can keep it," moaned Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif. ace who recently won the NCAA national championships.

His comment just about summed up the American players' feelings about the cold, windy conditions that has plagued the tourney since its start and has disrupted the schedule.

Rain stopped play twice in opening rounds and caused a late start Tuesday.

Ralston, one of five U.S. players who won opening day matches, was on the sideline Tuesday as Chuck McKinley of St. Louis led six more U.S. players into the second round.

McKinley, the only seeded American in the tourney, made occasional brilliant displays in a 6-3, 6-3, 8-6 victory over Cliff Drysdale of South Africa.

Other American victories: Charles Parsarell, Puerto Rico, defeated Franz Hainka, Austria, 6-3, 6-3, 7-5; Bob Siska, San Francisco, defeated Ion Tiriac, Romania, 6-4, 6-2, 7-5; Arthur Ashe, Richmond, Va., defeated Carlos Fernandez, Brazil, 3-6, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-1; Frank Froehling, Coral Gables, Fla., defeated Donald Dell, Bethesda, Md., 1-6, 8-6, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3; and Tom Edlefsen, Berkeley, Calif., defeated A. C. Kendall, Australia 3-6, 6-3, 7-5, 1-6, 6-4.

The Americans ousted included Eugene Scott of New York and Cliff Buchholz of St. Louis.

In women's play, Mrs. Vera Sukova of Czechoslovakia, beaten finalist last year, ousted Jane Albert of Pebble Beach, Calif., daughter of former football All-America Frankie Albert, 6-4, 6-4.

Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach defeated Sonja Packta of Austria 6-4, 6-4. Top-seeded Margaret Smith of Australia won without trouble.

Fate Intervenes After Years To Right W. W. II Blow

Truman Cramer, owner of the Truman's Swedish Massage, 807 West Main, received his doctor's degree in physical therapy last weekend at the American Institute of Science, Indianapolis, Ind.

Dr. Cramer has been a therapist for a good many years and accidents have played a strange part in his chosen profession. This was the thing he was interested in when Uncle Sam needed him in service, but he studied some before he went in service at night school after he had become acquainted with a college professor who encouraged him.

All through his service he spent his spare time on research and writing on the subject. He studied physical therapy under a doctor in England too. But war is war, and he was hit in the arm by shrapnel, which left him unable to do the work he had trained to do. But he was certain he would get better and when he was in Germany afterwards, for observation, he continued his research.

There were several operations, but there was no strength in his arm. Then when he came back home, he got his barber license so that he could make a living, and for several years had his barber shop at the location he now has the Swedish Massage. But he didn't give up the idea that some day he would be able, again, to go into the work he wanted to do. He went to school two or three times a year and did post graduate work.

Then came the freak accident down at the lake. He was water skiing, when he fell and he got entangled in the rope which wound around his arm. Whatever was wrong with the arm the rope fixed it, and from then on he could feel the strength coming back. He was afraid to hope too much. Then he went into massage very lightly for four or five years, because he wanted to be sure.

Last fall he started advertising, that was about September, and began his business in a small degree.

Three months ago he closed down his barber shop and opened his Swedish Massage.

He specializes in arthritis, back work and nervousness. But there are other things, too, such as poor circulation, poor figure and bursters.

Dr. Cramer has also a masseuse. She is Mrs. Billie Ruth Cowger.

Born in Sedalia, he is the son of Mrs. Mamie Cramer, 231 1/2 North Prospect. He received his early education in the public schools of Sedalia, in schools near

Truman Cramer

Sedalia and in Detroit, Mich. He is a registered masseur and physical therapist, R. M. T.

It took him 23 years and a lot of study and research to earn his Ph. D. degree, that made him a Doctor of Physical Therapy, and a good many years of wondering whether he would ever be able to again put his knowledge into action, but he somehow must have expected a miracle or he wouldn't have kept at it—and then the miracle came—came at a time when he thought he was having fun and suddenly found himself being dragged through the water all tangled up in a rope—a miracle disguised as an accident.

He resides at 323 North Prospect with his wife and 15 year old son, Truman Larry.

Ezekiel Williams

Trailblazer's Grave Marked 119 Years After His Death

June 30, 1963, numerous descendants of Ezekiel Williams, said to be the first Anglo-Saxon to settle in Benton County, 132 years ago, will gather at the Union Church, near Cole Camp, to honor the pioneer settler and dedicate his monument, 119 years after his death.

Ezekiel Williams led a very colorful and adventurous life. He contributed much to the early history of Benton County, Missouri, and his expeditions extended into the settling of the West.

The date of the birth of Ezekiel Williams is uncertain as is his birthplace. He was born about 1775 and by his own statement was reared in Kentucky. He arrived in Missouri territory around 1810. For the next several years he was involved in many expeditions to the West. He was one of the men who participated in planning of the first trading expedition to Santa Fe, N. Mex. It is assumed he was one of four Missourians with William Becknell who made what history records as the first successful overland expedition to Santa Fe, in 1821, over what is now known as the "Santa Fe Trail."

It is recorded that he was captain of a large trading caravan to Santa Fe in 1827. This was reportedly, the largest caravan to travel this route up to that date. The caravan was composed of 33 wagons and pleasure carriages.

In 1814 Ezekiel married Nancy Jones and settled in Missouri, living for 17 years in Boone's Lick Country. About 1831 he moved his wife and family to Benton County where he lived until his death on Dec. 24, 1844. He settled in the northeast part of Benton County on an old trail, afterward called the Booneville-Springfield road, about three or four miles southwest of the present Cole Camp. A creek which ran through his land is still called "William's Creek." In 1835 the northeast corner of Benton County was laid off as a township and called "The Township of Williams—so called in honor of Ezekiel Williams, Esquire, resident therein."

In 1876 a "History of Benton County" was written by Judge James H. Lay. In this book it is stated that the first post office in Benton County was located at Ezekiel Williams' home and there is a tradition that Ezekiel was the first postmaster. Records prove that the first general election of Benton County and all other elections thereafter until 1839 were held in Williams' home with Ezekiel presiding as one of the three judges.

The story of some of the early Western adventures of Ezekiel are recorded in a book, "The Lost Trappers," by David H. Coyner, published in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1947. In 1913 Ezekiel was written up in the "Missouri Historical Society Collections" in an article entitled "Ezekiel Williams Adventures in Colorado." Later, in 1951, the story of his life, by Frederic E. Voelker, was published in the "Bulletin" of the Missouri Historical Society under the title of "Ezekiel Williams of Boon's Lick—the Missouri Years of a famous Mountain Man."

Frederic E. Voelker, author and historian, of St. Louis, Mo., is preparing seven biographical sketches of prominent figures in the early Western fur trade. Ezekiel Williams is one of them. The sketches will be published in a biographical dictionary of early Western fur trade. It will be a collaboration by a number of writers and will consist of four or five volumes. The first volume is expected to be published in the fall of 1963.

May 28, 1842, Ezekiel sold a parcel of his land in Benton County to the trustees of the Methodist Episcopal Church for the purpose of building a church and burying ground. The cemetery became known as Williams' Cemetery and the church was later called Union Church.

In the summer of 1962 a committee, composed of Ezekiel's descendants was organized to collect funds from descendants for the purpose of placing a monument on Ezekiel's grave. Functioning on this committee were Mrs. Hettie L. Henry, Mrs. Dewey Larson, and Mrs. Leon Borchers, all of Lincoln, Ill. March 29, this year, a monument was erected on Williams' grave. The marker bears the inscription: In Memory of Ezekiel Williams Circa 1775 - 1844 Western Mountain Man Memorial placed by Descendants 1963

June 30 there will be a basket dinner at noon followed by the memorial service and dedication ceremony.

Voelker, author and historian from St. Louis, is to attend and the Missouri Historical Society has been extended an invitation to be present.

Mrs. Hansen Attends AAUW National Meet

Mrs. Marguerite Hansen, East Highway 50, teacher at Whittier School is attending the biennial national convention of the American Association of University Women as a delegate from the local AAUW chapter. The convention, which is in Denver, Colo., opened Wednesday with delegates attending from all 50 states.

Officers, including president and three vice - presidents, will be elected, and entertainment has been planned for throughout the convention which closes with a banquet Friday night.

Dr. Helen B. Taussig, professor of pediatrics at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, whose pioneer work led to the first blue-baby operation, received the 1963 achievement award of the American Association of University, for her contributions to medical science in the field of congenital malformations of the heart, for which she is world-renowned.

Grants amounting to more than $6,000 to the American Association of University Women Educational Foundation were announced by the foundation president, Dr. Anna L. Rose Hawkes.

Jamison said he believed it was the jewelry thief.
